

Secrets of the Jedi Temple

The Clone War rages on! Planets all around the outer rim continue to be drawn into the battles between the Republic clone troopers and the Separatist battle droids. The Jedi have taken the roles of generals leading the clones into battle. However, many Jedi have questioned their role as active participants in the fighting and struggle with their Jedi teachings of being peacekeepers and using their power to defend and balance.

Two Jedi have gone to an ancient temple to meditate on these dilemmas and seek guidance.

(Can be two Jedi, one Jedi, Master and Padawan, etc. Depending on the number of performers available and fight combinations.)

The Jedi enter the sacred temple knowing that the Force often manifests realistic challenges for those seeking wisdom.

(The following are introductions to rooms within the temple. They can be added or subtracted from the story line to accommodate the number of performers, the mix of Jedi and Sith that are available, and available approved fights.)

Jedi vs Jedi

The Jedi find themselves in a training room at the temple on Coruscant. Their former master is there waiting for them and begins a lesson they remember well. "The Jedi are peacekeepers. We fight to defend those who cannot defend themselves."

Jedi vs Sith

The temple grows dark while a red mist swirls around them. A figure appears in the darkness. It is a Sith Lord and his apprentice. "The Jedi will not do what is needed to end this war. We must end it for them."

Jedi vs Jedi

The floor grows wet and spongy. Unseen creatures call and rumble in the dark fog. The Jedi approach a clearing and hear a familiar voice. "Hope, there must be. Fear leads to the dark side." A Jedi master appears. "We must fight to provide hope to those who have none."

Sith vs Sith

The Jedi open a smooth black door. The room is black but has a light that has no apparent source. Two dark figures appear. "You have failed for the last time. This war will not be won by mistakes."

*

Jedi vs Sith

The walls dissolve to an open plain. A large battle can be heard in the distance. Two figures in dark robes walk over the nearest hill. "Look what we have found. Let us give them the peace they search for."

The Jedi exit the temple, yet the Force rarely provides precise answers to any questions. We must all meditate on the insights we have gathered today and return to the battles outside.

We are the Central Pennsylvania Jedi Sith Alliance. Thank you for attending our show.

May the Force be with you.
